The production of this report was inspired by the valuable feedback we received from you through the annual parental voice stakeholder questionnaire. Your insights were instrumental in shaping the report's content and ensuring it addresses the information most important to you. We would greatly appreciate your feedback on this annual report as your insights will be invaluable to us.

We believe that open communication and transparency are essential for building strong partnerships between schools and our families. We encourage you to take some time to read the report and learn more about the exciting work happening within Nova Education Trust.

We deeply appreciate your continued support as we work together to deliver a truly transformational education for every child.

Best wishes,

Ash Rahman
