Retrieval	Core Knowledge	Student Thinking
What do teachers need to retrieve from students before they start teaching new content ?	What specific ambitious knowledge do teachers need to teach students in this sequence of learning?	What real life examples can be applied to this sequence of learning to development of our students thinking, encouraging them to see the inequalities around them and 'do something about them!'
Students own knowledge and understanding of sport - students prior sporting experience, through playing or spectating or teaching, may have developed some level of knowledge in aspects of topics covered in this unit. KS4 Curriculum - students will also have experience of leadership and will have set goals for themselves and the group and will be able to refer back to that to see how "SMART" it was and how effective it was. KS3 Curriculum - Regularly performed a wide range of sports and will have knowledge of the individual skills needed for those sports. They will be able to identify them and will have understanding on how they are performed. - Students will have been given regular goals and targets set to	Students will be evaluating the importance and effectiveness of goal setting within the sporting context. They will contrast its importance and effectiveness in relation to different sports, different stage of learning and different individual needs. Following on from that they will analyse the impact goal setting has on the following factors, whilst making judgements on these factors for a wide range of sports <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • for attentional focus • persistence on tasks • raising confidence and self-efficacy • control of arousal and anxiety • to monitor performance Students will then describe and apply the SMART principle (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Recorded, Time phased). They will explain what each principle means, how they aid in reaching goals, whilst giving specific examples from sport, which evidences the use of the said principle. They will evaluate the effectiveness of already set goals, and make a judgement on their effectiveness, based on each of the SMART principles. They will then finally analyse the impact of missing principles within SMART, and how these may affect the success of the performer when trying to reach the goal.	Each week, a key theme will run through all PE lessons linked to real life examples. These will be linked to the particular learning outcome the students are on at the time and will be consistent across the department. The aim will be for students to develop their thinking, recognise the inequalities within sport (linked to the topic) and do something about them. In the 'teaching' lessons, students will be provided with a starter to challenge stereotypes in sport and then an activity linked to heading being covered where they can 'do something about them.' <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1.
